Description of Events (Describe tasks being performed and sequence of events):

While I was ringing out a guest, a couple, at the cash register a young man who was in line to board their flight came up to me and told me that a man at the opposite end of the store had just grabbed a luggage off the shelf and walked away. I wrapped up the sale with the guests I was originally attending and moved to the side of the store with the luggage to see if I can catch a glance at the thief before he was too far. Once I saw him walking away with a Purple DASH Luggage I called my manager Enrique to ask him what to do. He informed to call the Airport Security Hotline and give them as much information as I could. As I was about to do so the person (Approx. 6ft, Male, Medium Build) who stole the luggage was now walking back to our location. I see him put the luggage away to the side in a little inlet in the wall and kept walking. I tried to make contact but I was ignored and I simply grabbed the luggage he left and returned it. The person who initially brought this to my attention was no longer there.

Members not in attendance

All members were in attendance today.

Agenda

Discussion on the progress of statistics gathering and the creation of the reports by all teams.

Reports

- Patryk and Ramses reported their findings in the data collected for relationships between Height and Position of our various players.
  - Attacker's median height is 181cm.
  - Defender's median height is 178cm.
  - Midfielder's median height is 183cm.
  - Goalkeeper's median height is 188cm. which they see as the more important part of the data and they attribute to the need of the player's to cover the goal more naturally.
- Steve, Bartosz, and Brian reported their findings on the data collected for relationships between Preferred Foot and Position of our various players.
  - Identified data that they deem interesting towards goalkeepers as only 11% of goalkeepers are left-footed. The average relationship between players who are left-footed and their respective position tends to be around 20%.
  - 76.7% of our soccer players were right-footed and 23.3% were left-footed.
- Patryk and Ramses continue to collect data out in the field for correlations between weight and height.

Unfinished business

- Cross-tabulation charts for the preferred-foot/position are not completed.
- Histograms for height/position are not completed.

New business

- Steve, Bartosz, and Brian were assigned create a comprehensive interpretive report on their findings by Mope to be presented to the FIFA Executive Committee. This should include their data, charts, graphs, and interpretations.
